Minstrel Will Help Elks' Crippled Children's Work

FOR A CAUSE: Cool weather has set in and Timotheus is back walking the streets after a two weeks job inside the Daily R. which kept the columns from being forthcoming and the worst thing about an outside job again is that tomorrow is the day that straw hats should be discarded—or placed back on a shelf for next year—and the purchase price of a felt top hat is a thing of momentary expediency.

I noticed while on the desk that a story came through announcing that the annual Elks minstrel and revue, "What's Your Game?" will be held at the Grand theatre this year on Oct. 6 and 7.

This brings me around to a discussion of the importance of the minstrel. It is much more than a couple of nights of fun and laughter for the people who attend. It means fun and laughter in later months and years for lots of kiddies who won't be attending the show.

That is because the entire net proceeds—all that the show takes in through the sale of tickets and program advertisements—goes into the expenses subtracted—goes into crippled children's work.

Working with and for crippled children has been the big project of the Illinois Elks association for 27 years and the Harrisburg lodge throughout these years has been one of the best workers in the program in the entire state. For the past several years the lodge's contribution to this fine work has come from the October show.

A couple of weeks ago an Elks crippled children's clinic was held here. James Arensmann, chairman of the local lodge's crippled children's committee, said that 16 children were examined during the day from Saline, Williamson, Franklin and Jackson county.

Of the 16 examined by specialists brought here from Illinois Research hospital in Chicago, four already have been to the research hospital for treatment and care, six more definitely will go and one is there now. There are 46 active cases on the Harrisburg rolls.

During the 27 years more than 1,000 children have been examined at clinics held at Harrisburg and at least 400 of these have been sent to Chicago for various treatments. Many have gone back several times and one 17-year-old Harrisburg girl has made periodic trips—three a year sometimes—since shortly after she was born.

And there is no cost at all to the child or parents. So it's easy to see that in order for the Harrisburg lodge and other Elks lodges of Illinois to carry on the program, lots of money is needed. The locals, if the right co-operation is secured, will be able to hand over a check amounting to $2,000 or more after all bills of the show are cleared up.

The Chicago office of the Crippled Children's division is in the Elks Memorial building on Lake Shore drive. There Al Arnold and Frank White, secretaries, work to keep the program moving. But it takes money. "What's Your Game?" will supply part of the money needed.

Lions Prepare for Sale of Light Bulbs

Following their dinner meeting Monday night at Murt's cafe, members of the Harrisburg Lions club sacked light bulbs, preparing for their town-wide sale next Monday, Sept. 20.

The sale had been announced for last night, but it wasn't possible to get the bulbs sacked and ready.

The light bulbs will be sold at regular retail price and offered in bags of 11 bulbs for $2. In each sack will be bulbs of the following sizes—six 60 watt, three 100 watt and two 75 watt. Profits from the sale will be used by the Lions club in its various civic enterprises.

GOP Senator Margaret Chase Smith Wins

Republicans Also Re-Elect Congressmen; Chairman Hail Vote

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—Maine elected its first Democratic governor in 20 years Monday but also re-elected a Republican senator and three congressmen.

National leaders of both parties hailed the results as evidence of the old saying that "as Maine goes, so goes the nation." But they disagreed on which way Maine went. Edmund S. Muskie, who had served in the Truman administration, won the governorship by upsetting Republican Gov. Burton M. Cross. His victory margin was about 22,500 votes.

While Cross was losing his bid for a second two-year term, Republican Sen. Margaret Chase Smith and GOP Reps. Robert Hale, Charles P. Nelson and Clifford E. McIntire won re-election, though by smaller margins than they had expected.

Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell predicted his party will recapture control of Congress easily if it can do as well in November as it did Monday in Maine. "If this switch reflects in any way a national trend," he said, "it is not difficult to predict the outcome."

Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall expressed no dismay. He congratulated the Republican victors on "beating" stiffer than usual opposition. "He said it was a tribute to their records and that of the Eisenhower administration that Maine voters had distinguished 'between national and state issues.'"

State Issues a Factor
Muskie, a lanky, 40-year-old lawyer, saw his victory over Cross also as stemming largely from state issues. He said Cross antagonized many voters with a revised highway maintenance plan and a proposal to abandon a tuberculosis sanitarium at Presque Isle.

Senator Smith did not believe the governor's race "should be interpreted for national significance. The Senate and congressional votes are more pertinent." Cross concurred, saying his defeat was due to "local conditions and personalities."

Mrs. Jean Gannett Williams, president of the Guy Gannett newspapers and radio-television stations in Maine, said Muskie won a personal, not a party, victory.

But Frank M. Coffin, youthful Lewiston attorney who quarterbacked the Democratic campaign, said "I think the election has demonstrated that some of the glamor has worn off the Eisenhower administration."

Returns from all but 20 of 626 precincts gave Muskie 135,992 votes and Cross 113,450. Mrs. Smith had 143,135 votes to 101,220 for Paul Fullam, history professor at Colby College, the Democratic candidate.

Democratic headquarters in Washington stressed that although their candidates lost, they received larger percentage of the total vote this year than in previous elections. Mrs. Smith got 71 per cent of the vote in 1948, and about 58 or 59 per cent Monday, they said. The Republican congressional candidates dropped from 67 per cent of the vote in 1952 to 55 per cent, the Democrats said.

Two Receive Penal Farm Sentences, Another is Fined

Two men received penal farm sentences and another was fined yesterday in county court before Judge L. M. Hancock, acting for County Judge Ralph Choissier.

Sentenced were Samuel Louis Carlisle of Galatia and Ralph Woods of Harrisburg. Carlisle, arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated, set fire to cell mattresses when placed in the county jail Sunday. He was given a year on the state farm at Vandalia.

Joe Louis Abney of Galatia Route 3, arrested by state police on a charge of reckless driving, was fined $50 and costs of $25.30. Joe Woodside, held in the county jail on a bad check charge, made bond yesterday.

Illinois Demos Unanimously Adopt Platform

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois Democrats were on record today as wholeheartedly favoring reapportionment of the state's legislative districts.

At their annual convention Monday night, addressed by Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee and the party's state slate in the Nov. 2 elections, the Democrats adopted a platform by unanimous voice vote.

It had been expected that some downstate leaders might object to the plank which urged voters to vote on the November "blue ballot" to approve a re-map of the state senatorial districts.

The platform also urged that 18-year-old citizens be permitted to vote, that a state crime commission be created, and that the Taft-Hartley Act be repealed.

Other planks asked for passage of a state fair employment practice law, increased state financial aid to schools, and judicial reforms.

Calls Platform Courageous

Sen. Paul Douglas, seeking reelection, said in a speech that the platform was "courageous, dynamic and forthright" whereas the Republican platform "was conceived in sin, submitted in iniquity and published in an intellectual vacuum."

Gore, speaking on behalf of Douglas, said President Eisenhower has asked for the election of congressmen who will support him.

"Who better fits that pattern than Paul Douglas?" Gore asked.

However, Gore took occasion to attack Mr. Eisenhower's policy as one of "drifting" and said it was demonstrated by loss of Indochina and the collapse of the European Defense Community.

Douglas charged that the "Old Guard backward Republican leadership of Illinois... stands with the selfish interests that are determined to go down the line for reaction and give-away to the lobbyists and their masters."

Oppose 'Plundering' People
The Democrats, he said, are "opposed to plundering the people for the benefit of the selfish interests and their paid lobbyists."

Mark A. Peterman, Democratic nominee for state superintendent of public instruction, accused the present Republican administration of using "inadequate teaching methods" in schools and creating a generation of "reading cripples."

As a result of failure to learn how to enjoy good reading material, he said, students lose interest in school work, become bored, and fall into delinquency patterns.

David F. Mallett, candidate for state treasurer, warned that "morality cannot be separated from economics without disastrous results."

"Where moral standards and values are strictly utilized the problems of economic life have always been met with satisfaction to all," he said.

Board Tables Action on Annual Appropriations

Supervisors Vote Transfer of Funds To Take Care of Bills

The Saline County Board of Supervisors, holding its September meeting today at the courthouse, passed several resolutions for transfer of money and tabled action on the annual levy and appropriation ordinance, which go into effect the first Monday in December, until the third Thursday in October.

The resolutions, as submitted by Herman McFarlin, chairman of the Finance committee, transferred $10,000 from the collector's account to the general fund to take care of bills, transferred $10,000 from the collector's account to the state aid road fund, and transferred $1,500 from the board of review funds to the county clerk's fund for extra clerk hire.

Two other resolutions submitted by McFarlin and approved called for 750 more names to be added to the petit jury list and for the levies of the various townships for road and bridge purposes be accepted as turned in to the county clerk.

Approve Health Dept. Levy

Discussed by W. O. Douglas, chairman of the Purchasing committee, were mattresses to replace those burned up by a prisoner at the county jail Sunday, a filing cabinet for Circuit Clerk Quentin Bowers, and a screen to keep pigeons from getting in to the workings of the town clock and messing them up.

These matters were left in the hands of the Purchasing committee.

Submitted by the Egyptian Health department and approved were the levy and the appropriation ordinance for this tri-county organization for the fiscal year July 1, 1954, to June 30, 1955. The figures were the same as those in last year's levy and ordinance.

Tabled for investigation was the proposal submitted by Waldo Abney, Brushy supervisor, for Olin L. Peavler, who seeks the vacating of a plot of lots in Harco into farmland.

The report of J. H. Pittman, county mine inspector, was read and approved.

Southern Illinois Apple Crop is Moving to Markets

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—The southern Illinois apple crop started moving in volume to markets this week, the Illinois Fruit Council said today.

Shipment of early fall varieties started earlier this month. Illinois Jonathans were the first varieties harvested and will be followed by Red and Golden Delicious, Winesap, Turley, Stayman, Rome, Willow Twig and other varieties. The harvest will move northward until it is completed in North Illinois about Nov. 1.

Many Illinois apple growers report the hot, dry summer cut their expected yield and some areas were hard hit by the heat, the council said. Some estimates have predicted the unfavorable weather may have cut by 40 to 50 per cent the early season estimate of a two million bushel crop.

Cool weather and rainfall of the past week helped produce a good finish to late apples, and growers expect they will have a large percentage of high quality apples.

'Billy Boy' Again Gets Lost, But is Returned by Ad

Mrs. Robert Partain at Raleigh phoned The Register today to say that her parakeet "Billy Boy," who flew out of the house last Friday, was found Monday and returned to her by Mrs. Paul Lowe, who lives some two miles away from the Partain home.

The "budgie" flew up to Mrs. Lowe and kept talking to her, but she couldn't understand what he was saying. Remembering that she saw an ad in the Register classifieds about a lost parakeet, Mrs. Lowe looked up the ad, and realized that the bird had been repeating his name, "Billy Boy," over and over.

This is the second time that Billy Boy has run away, and each time he got two miles away. Mrs. Stanley Raborn returned him to the Partains before. Reta and Atina Lee Partain own the bird. They are two little girls who will always believe in the power of Daily Register classifieds.

Stratton Names Czachorski Acting Chairman to Replace Daniels

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Eugene Czachorski, a 38-year-old Chicago lawyer, took over the reins of the Illinois Youth Commission today from ousted Chairman Lee E. Daniels.

Gov. William G. Stratton named Czachorski as acting chairman of the body Monday after the governor fired Daniels for failure to meet the "standards of performance" set for members of the administration.

Daniels, 65, chairman of the commission since its creation last year to supervise handling of youthful law offenders, had admitted he intervened innocently in behalf of a gambling equipment manufacturer seeking a state legal opinion on a gaming device.

Daniels said that at the request of a friend connected with the Chicago firm, he asked a state's attorney to request an attorney general's opinion on the legality of a slot machine device called a "trade booster."

A forged opinion holding the device to be legal later popped up. It was during the investigation of this forgery that Daniels' connection with the original request for an opinion was uncovered.

Daniels, former Du Page county state's attorney, insisted he had been "duped" in the matter. Stratton, however, announced Daniels' dismissal Monday shortly after the story of the opinion had unfolded.

Daniels arrived here later Monday and conferred 45 minutes with Stratton. He told reporters later he felt the governor had to dismiss him "for his own protection."

"But I think the governor did me an injustice in firing me before I had a chance to talk with him, when he knew I was on my way down here," Daniels said.

Daniels said Stratton told him neither did it indict Paul Whitehouse, charged with assault with intent to kill his wife, Charabelle.

Indicted was one person, Chester Golliber, for larceny. Golliber is charged with carrying off corn from the farm of C. E. Garner north of Eldorado and selling it while he was in the employ of Mr. Garner.

Sheriff Paul Spangler said that Golliber now is being held also on another charge, that of forgery. He is charged, Spangler said, with forging the name of C. E. Garner on a $37 check which he cashed at the McAllister locker plant on Route 45 south of Eldorado.

Williams had been out on bond in the June 6 slaying of Sheriff, 20, during an altercation at the home of the 44-year-old farmer north of Eldorado. A coroner's jury recommended that he be freed at an inquest held shortly after the shooting.

Whitehouse had been charged with hurling a lighted kerosene lamp at his wife in their home. She spent several weeks in a local hospital suffering from burns.

SEIEC Employee Receives Injury

George Gustin, employee of the Southeastern Illinois Electric cooperative, was rushed by ambulance shortly before noon to Lightner hospital suffering a leg injury received when it was struck by three rolling power poles.

Gustin and another employee, Herb Young, were loading power poles from a pile adjacent to the NYC railroad tracks at the rear of the garage building in north-east Harrisburg when three of the poles rolled off the stack onto his leg.

Extent of his injuries was not immediately known.

Gustin's home is in Cave-in-Rock.

Dulles to Give Report to Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will make a 15-minute radio-TV report to the nation Wednesday night on the recent Manila conference.

The State Department said the report would be carried "live" over the Dumont television network starting at 6:45 p. m. CST. It will be carried later in the evening by the CBS-TV network and the ABC, Mutual, NBC, and CBS radio networks.

Four Local Men, Two Cars Aid Hunt for Killer

Two police cars and four men were sent from Harrisburg today to aid in the search for the man who last night killed a West Frankfort police officer.

Going in one of the county cars was Deputy Sheriff Isham Threet, accompanied by City Fireman Harvey Hicks. City Policemen Pat Atkinson and John Dunn took the city police car.

Cars equipped with police radio were requested by Franklin county authorities to assist in the search of the area where it was believed the hunted man was hiding.

Meek Says He is Closely Aligned With Eisenhower

ALEDO, Ill. (AP)—Joseph T. Meek, Republican candidate for senator, described himself repeatedly today as closely aligned with President Eisenhower.

Meek paid tribute to Mr. Eisenhower in speeches at Carthage, Okla. and here. He also stressed his friendship for the President in a speech prepared for delivery this evening at Galesburg.

Meek, accompanied by Warren Wright, candidate for state treasurer, and Vernon L. Nickell, seeking reelection for superintendent of public instruction, was in the second day of a downstate stump tour which will continue until Oct. 15.

The Democratic nominees, meanwhile, took a day of rest after addressing their party's state convention at Chicago last night. They are Sen. Paul Douglas, David Malott, candidate for treasurer, and Mark Teterman, candidate for schools superintendent.

Wednesday the Democrats will begin an extensive two-day speaking program in the Rock Island-Moline area and then travel on Thursday to the National Plowing Contest at Olney.

In his addresses today, Meek said the President "has reposed a great confidence in me by publicly indicating his approval of my candidacy for the U. S. Senate."

"I am humbly grateful for that confidence and support," he said. "It means certain victory for the entire Republican ticket for the President's popularity in Illinois is at its peak today."

Meek apparently was trying to overcome Douglas' charges that Meek is committed to a legislative program in opposition to the President's aims.

"There are no splinters in the platform of the Republican party of Illinois," Meek said, adding that he and other party leaders offer the President a "unified voice of confidence and most whole-hearted and enthusiastic support."

Election Sept. 25 On Selling Three School Buildings

Notice is given today of a special election by the Harrisburg City school District 13 on the sale of three sites and school buildings not now used, due to annexation of the schools to District 43.

The sites are Ingram Hill, Pleasant Valley and Cain.

Children from these schools are now attending other schools in the Harrisburg school system, and the buildings and sites are no longer required.

The buildings are suitable for conversion to residences, and are on desirable sites. Sale is proposed in the interest of conserving their use by prevention of depreciation due to inoccupancy and to damage by vandalism.

If the sale is approved, the sites then will be sold at public auction, date of which will be advertised for the benefit of all concerned.

The election will be held at the Junior high school in Harrisburg on Saturday, Sept. 25, between the hours of 12 o'clock noon and 7 p. m.

Night Chief, James Paulk, 42, is Killed

'Rough Looking' Gunman Also Robs Benton Taxi Driver

BULLETIN
WEST FRANKFORT, Ill. (AP)—Officers are holding on a vagrancy charge a suspect in the killing of Night Police Chief James Paulk, but he has not been positively identified by the cab driver who was kidnapped and robbed. He was picked up during the manhunt near Freeman Spur.

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill. (AP)—A "rough looking" gunman who kidnapped and robbed a Benton taxi driver killed a West Frankfort policeman who stopped to question him Monday night.

Night Police Chief James Paulk, 42, was wounded fatally in the chest when he stepped out of a squad car to question the man who had forced cab driver James E. Bailey, 21, Benton, to drive toward West Frankfort.

A police alarm was out today and a large searching party combed an area near Freeman Spur where the man freed Bailey and then disappeared. Bailey said his abductor, who was "rough looking," threatened his life twice.

State police and sheriff's officers and city police from counties and communities in this area joined in the search. Airplanes were called in to aid the search along with bloodhounds.

Pulls Gun on Cabbie
Bailey, who was driving a cab for the first time, told police the man hired his cab about 10:10 p. m. and gave him directions as they drove through Benton. When they reached Ill. 37, the man told him to drive south and about three miles south of Benton pulled a gun and ordered Bailey from the cab.

After tying him with a rope and robbing him of $7, the gunman took the wheel and started back to Benton.

Six West Frankfort high school boys drove by as the man shoved Bailey back in the cab. They notified Paulk and Policeman Bill Willis. The two officers went to the scene, spotted the cab heading south, and started after it.

Bailey told police the gunman noticed the cars following and told the cabbie, "You notified the police somehow and if that's the police I'll kill you and them, too."

Shoot It Out

The man pulled to the side of the road and waited for the squad car. When Paulk started toward them asking "where are you boys from?" the gunman shot him. He also fired at Willis, who ducked down when the first shot was fired and then got out of the police car.

The gunman drove off and Willis and Paulk, who remained standing, fired several shots after it. Paulk died within a few minutes.

The teenage youths, who had parked behind the cars, followed the cab here and notified police when it turned west toward Freeman Spur. The gunman freed Bailey and then disappeared in a wooded area.

Bailey described his abductor as about 40 to 45 years old, 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighing about 180 pounds. He wore a khaki shirt and trousers.

Youth Jailed After Accused of Attempt To Steal Chicken

A Harrisburg youth today was placed in the Saline county jail after he was accused of trying to steal a chicken. No charge was filed immediately.

He was caught last night by Lyndell Alexander, owner of some chickens.

City police at 10:30 p. m. received a call to go to 1130 South Washington street and upon arrival found Alexander holding the youth. He told the officers he caught the youth with one of his chickens under his arm, that the youth had dropped it and ran.

The youth was kept in the city jail overnight and turned over to county authorities this morning.

DREW PEARSON Says: Reappraisal Of French Position Is More Agonizing Than We Expected; Dewey Has Deal With Ike To Keep His Name In Headlines; FCC Modifies Its Communist Claims Against TV
Operator.

WASHINGTON. — Shortly before President Eisenhower called his National Security Council meeting in Denver, Pentagon advisers had begun to get some appreciation of what cutting off military aid to France would mean. The picture is not a happy one. And it looks less happy every day.

It is all very easy for Secretary Dulles to talk about an "agonizing reappraisal" of aid to France and for senators to spout off about getting tough. But when the military men spread a map of Europe before them, things look different.

What they see on that map is a network of air bases, docks, warehouses, pipelines, highways, auxiliary fuel depots, supply dumps carefully installed under the direction of the United States, all leading east and all calculated to prevent invasion by the Red Army. This network cost the American taxpayer a cool one billion dollars.

To take it up and put it down somewhere else will cost another billion. Furthermore the problem is: Where else can these supply lines be laid?

U. S. military experts are skeptical about putting them in Germany. If we bet all our chips on Germany, almost anything can happen. Chancellor Adenauer is nearing 80 and can't last forever.
West Germany is almost certain to be united with Communist East Germany, after which—what? Who will control?

Those are some of the "agonizing reappraisals" taking place right now.

TRAGIC DIPLOMACY
General Beetle Smith, the hard-working, retiring undersecretary of state, has been saying that we "oversold" EDC, that EDC wasn't as important as we thought it was.

But the experts who have to plan our defenses don't agree. Nor do the realistic diplomats. Actually the killing of EDC is the greatest triumph Moscow has accomplished in the cold war, a greater triumph than the men in the Kremlin ever expected. We can talk all we want about peace around Suez and a new oil agreement in Iran, but the tragic fact is that these are peaces compared with our diplomatic defeat in western Europe.

Note 1 — One of Dulles' mistakes was sizing up Mendes-France as a great man after only one day's conference with him.
Now Dulles is sore as blazes.
Mendes-France sold out EDC to Moscow in return for a deal with Molotov for a truce in Indo-China.

Note 2 — Another mistake may have been to talk publicly about an "agonizing reappraisal," instead of applying the pressure privately through diplomatic channels. Dulles' statement about an agonizing reappraisal was made largely to appease GOP isolationists on Capitol Hill. Unfortunately, when U. S. foreign policy is based on pleasing Congress it's not always good for the U. S.

fact as a foreign-affairs trouble-shooter. It will keep his name in the papers, put him in a position to stage a comeback—if and when the time is ripe. Dewey's family were adamant that he retire. Mrs.
Dewey has been fed up with official life for years. The boys have n't relished going to school with bodyguards. One argument put up against FDR junior, during secret Democratic huddles over the governorship of New York, was that New York's best vote-getter had been dignified, unspectacular Herbert Lehman, long-time governor, now senator. Lehman is no great speaker, merely impresses people by his sincerity. It was argued that Averell Harriman, also no great speaker, could do the same. Another argument was that Harriman had a wealth of executive experience—as secretary of commerce, head of the Union Pacific railroad, head of the foreign aid program—and that this would be more appealing than Senator Ives' legislative background.

New York Dems would like to nominate able Judge Sam Di Falco, an Italian-American, for lieutenant governor; or possibly Judge Anthony Di Giovanni of Brooklyn.
Both are A-1 men, but both inadvertently attended a Salvation Army benefit once given by Frankie Costello, and Republicans would be sure to exploit it.
Best bet to run for attorney general on the Republican ticket is hard-working Congressman Jack Javits of New York.

TO FACE HIS ACCUSERS
The most important and significant TV hearing in years comes up before the Federal Communications Commission tomorrow, when Edward Lamb, owner of one of the most successful TV stations in the country, WIKK at Erie, Pa., will finally be able to face those who called him a Communist.

Lamb, a successful businessman and owner of various radio stations in addition to the Erie TV station, has already been unmercifully smeared-by-headline as a result of the FCC's preliminary charges. His name has been in the newspapers for months without a chance to answer.

Finally, and only when he took the matter before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, did the FCC belatedly agree, after considerable nudging by the Senate committee, that Lamb should have a chance to face his accusers. That chance comes tomorrow.

Meanwhile the FCC seems to have pulled in its horns regarding the charges against Lamb. Its first charge was that he had failed to tell the commission that he had been an active Communist in Lucas county, Ohio, between the years 1944 and 1948. This part of the accusation has now been dropped, and the FCC is now much more ambiguous in its charges.

Further, William Cummings, an ex-Communist upon whom the FCC apparently relied originally for its charges against Lamb, has now stated: "I've never said under any condition that Ed Lamb was a member of the Communist party, and I wouldn't say it because I've never known him to be a member of the Communist party."

Lamb happens to have a recording of Cummings' conversation with Victor Ullman in which they discussed a prospective article for the Saturday Evening Post, and in which Cummings also threatened to bring some libel suits in order to get more publicity for himself and the prospective magazine article.

Meanwhile the Toledo Blade, though competing against Lamb for another TV license, has written about him: "This newspaper, which undoubtedly is as well informed about what goes on in this community as anybody else, has never come across any evidence to support the accusation. We will grant that one had to get up early in the morning to get the beter of him (Lamb). But a Communist? Bunk!"

Husband, Children of Cancer Patient
Show Courage and Self Reliance

By Alta Porter

The courage and the self reliance of Herbert McGowen and his two young sons, Roger, 8 and Brent, 6 were the subject of a news story in the Post Dispatch recently, with a picture of them in the Everyday magazine section of the same issue.

The former railroad maintenance worker and his children, who live at Harco, had spent four nights in their truck parked near St. Louis Maternity hospital, where Mrs.
Herbert McGowen is a cancer patient.

Their unusual living arrangements attracted some attention and offers of assistance, if needed.

"We're not in need," the father of the children firmly explained, going on to say that their truck shelter had a two-fold purpose. It enabled them to remain near Mrs.
McGowen during the last few days of the children's school vacation and it helped to conserve family finances, heavily strained for medical care for Mrs. McGowen.

Although he politely declined offers of assistance, the 52 year old part-time farmer, on leave from his railroad employment because of a heart condition, gladly accepted the friendship of interested St.
Louisans, encountered in abundant.

Among McGowen's favorite newfound acquaintances in Forest Park were park and city police with whom he consulted to be certain that he was violating no ordinances. They were very courteous Mr. McGowen said.

Help Playground Supervisors

The two McGowen boys made their share of friends among St.
Louis youngsters, and among city recreation supervisors too. Each morning the energetic pair helped to set up equipment at the park playground near Chouteau avenue.

In the evenings they assisted in returning the gear to storage.

At night the boys curled up on a wooden bunk in the canvas protected rear of the truck. They said they slept fine and they exhibited no fatigue as they bounded about the playground. McGowen slept in the cab.

In the absence of cooking facilities their meals consisted of prepared foods purchased at nearby stores with menu emphasis on such boyhood favorites as milk and ice cream.

They came home before the beginning of school, and the oldest boy is living with Mr. McGowen's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Overton Hall, while attending school. Two daughters, aged 10 and 4 and Brent are at Decker, Ind., living with relatives and are enrolled there.

Having his family settled for the Fall semester, Mr. McGowen plans to continue the 250 mile round trip to St. Louis regularly as long as his wife is hospitalized there. His sister, and Mrs. Mary Sirok, with other neighbors, have befriended the McGowens during the illness of the mother, helping to supplement the menu of the father and the children with home cooked foods and have shown them many other kind and neighborly favors.

THERE'S nothing complicated about this extra power story.
Yes, Mobilgas SPECIAL actually delivers up to 25% more engine power for two important reasons:
FIRST — it's the only gasoline containing Mobil Power Compound — not just one but a combination of three chemical additives...
Additive RT 125 — to control power-wasting pre-ignition ping — and correct spark plug misfiring.
Additive Glymonate — to check stalling due to icing of the carburetor.
Additive RT 200 — to combat and reduce engine-formed gum that causes fuel waste.
AND SECONDLY — New Mobilgas

Harrisburg Woman's Club Begins Year With Luncheon

The Harrisburg Woman's club began its new year with an opening luncheon yesterday afternoon in the fellowship hall of the First Christian church. The executive board members were hostesses.

For the occasion the hall tables were placed to form the letter "H" and covered in white and green, the state colors. Lovely bouquets of various colors of roses adorned the tables and a large basket of carnations, the state flower, graced the piano. The new program booklets served as place cards.

Preceding the luncheon the National Anthem was sung by the group, directed by Mrs. Joseph M. Hart who was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Hudson Mudge, Mrs. J. J. Kline led in the "Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag," and Mrs. R. C. Davenport gave the invocation.

Following the delicious meal Mrs. M. P. McDonald gave the meditation. Placed on a table before her was a tall white candle which, she stated, represented the general federation. On each side of the white candle were placed four green ones, and as she lit each one, she recited a phrase from the "Club Collect." Mrs. McDonald closed with prayer.

Greetings were then given by the new club president, Mrs. J. L. Miller, who talked on the new programs, and the responsibilities that club members had before them. Among a list of things that each club member should keep in mind were "becoming familiar with the federation," "placing special emphasis on spiritual value," and "active participation."

Mrs. D. H. Hiller then sang "My Task."

Mrs. Miller introduced her executives for the new year which are as follows: Mrs. L. B. Kimmell, first vice president, who was unable to be present; Mrs. N. A. Herrmann, second vice president; Mrs. G. B. Wiley, recording secretary; Mrs. John F. Foster, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Glynn McCormack, treasurer; Mrs. J. J. Klein, Mrs. L. I. Webb and Mrs. C. C. Porter, directors at large; Mrs. C. R. Moore, student loan chairman; Mrs. J. A. Bottomley, parliamentarian and Mrs. C. C. Porter, historian.

Three of the charter members, Mrs. J. B. Blackman, Mrs. Herman Towle and Mrs. G. G. Mudge, were also present. Mrs. L. M. Smith, Illinois Mother of the Year in 1952 and honorary member of the Harrisburg club, was introduced along with past state, district and county presidents.

Mrs. Miller then presented the honor guest and speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. Roy Milburn, president of the 24th district of I. F. W. C. from New Burnside. In her talk she said that the "government rests on the home, school and church" and how fortunate Harrisburg was in having new churches and additions to schools. Mrs. Milburn, who was at one time an elementary school teacher, stated that the poems that were in the readers that she read were no longer there, and that someday she planned to compose a book of poems and their authors. She recited favorite poems from Robert Louis Stevenson, Eugene Field, Longfellow and Tennyson. She closed with a poem about home.

The state song, "Onward Federation," concluded the affair.

Film Showing School Problems

A film illustrating by graphs, charts and pictorial means the many problems facing Illinois schools was shown last night at the weekly dinner meeting of the Rotarians club.

In the absence of Russell Malan, Louis Beltz presented the program. He was ably assisted by Ronald Darnell of the Junior high faculty.

Among the problems facing Illinois schools and pointed out pictorially was the lack of State aid to local communities in comparison to other states with equal income, the inability to obtain enough teachers, the remaining inadequate "one-room" schools in operation and the continuing eight-month school in some areas.

During the business session which preceded the program, discussion was conducted on a membership drive and a club community project.

Next week's program will be a film entitled, "Train with the Cardinals" and narrated by Harry Carey.

Begin Distribution Of Applications for 1955 Auto Licenses

SPRINGFIELD — Uniformed investigators from the secretary of state's office have started personal distribution of 1955 Illinois vehicle license applications to notaries public, banks, currency exchanges, newspaper offices and auto deal- ers.

McCarthy Probe Committee to Keep Attorneys

WASHINGTON — The special Senate committee weighing censure charges against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy will keep its attorneys despite McCarthy's charge that they were trying to "con- vict" him, a member of the com- mittee said today.

Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kan.) was asked by newsmen as he left a closed committee meeting if the group would retain the legal staff which conducted the nine days of public hearings that ended Mon- day.

"There has never been any other thought," Carlson replied.

Chairman Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah) said the committee had not talked with its attorneys — chief counsel E. Wallace Chadwich and associate Guy G. De Furia since the hearings closed.

Watkins also told newsmen it is "possible" that the group will complete its report on the censure charges by Oct. 1.

Working on Report
"We're going to work on the report and get it out just as soon as we possibly can and do a good job," he said.

Then, he said, it will be up to Senate GOP and Democratic lead- ers to decide whether to call the Senate back before the Nov. 2 gen- eral election to receive the report.

Watkins said this morning's meeting was "a discussion of over- all problems." He said the com- mittee reached no decisions be- cause one member, Sen. Francis Case (R) was home in South Da- kota. Case is expected to return Friday.

Immunization Program in Two Periods in Schools

The immunization program of the 1954-55 school year will again be presented in two periods, it was announced today by Ethel Mathias, school nurse. DPT (diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus) and Tetanus Toxoid will be given be- fore the holidays if possible.

DPT and Tetanus Toxoid will not be given in the same clinic. Ty- phoid and smallpox will be sched- uled for early spring.

Local doctors will administer the toxoids and vaccines. There will be no clinics scheduled on Thurs- day since this is the doctors' day out of office. Clinic time will probably be 1 p. m. Written con- sent by parent or guardian is neces- sary for child participation and par- ents may bring their preschool chil- dren to the clinics.

The school program is set up under the guidance of local doctors who endeavor to follow state de- partment of public health recom- mendations, and Mrs. Mathias con- tinues, the consent forms used by the school gives the child's need as determined by the school cumu- lative records and the immuniza- tion recommendations. Parents should feel free to call the teacher or school nurse in regard to the program.

School clinics are fine, however, they are second best, she conclud- ed. "Parents who take their chil- dren to their family doctor or pedi- atrician and follow his recommen- dations in regard to immunization routine have reached the ideal in communicable disease protection."

West Virginia School Board Orders Negro Students to Leave

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—School officials cancelled classes at Greenbrier county schools today and ordered 40 Negro students who enrolled at the previously all-white schools last week to pick up their books and leave.

The county Board of Education ended an unsuccessful attempt to integrate white and Negro schools after 320 white students, backed by their parents, demonstrated against going to class with Negroes at White Sulphur Springs High.

About half a dozen schools throughout the county where Negro students enrolled for the first time Sept. 7 were closed until noon today to allow the Negroes to get their books and other equipment.

Rosiclare Launches Community Development Drive

Rosiclare has launched a Community Development program under the aegis of Southern Illinois university, Division of Area Services. A public rally was held at the Rosiclare Community high school with about 300 in attendance Thursday evening, Sept. 9. Richard W. Poston of Southern Illinois university made the principal address. Others who addressed the meeting were J. C. Walkup, district traffic manager, Illinois Central Railroad, Ed Lee, supervisor, Shawnee National Forest, and Congressman C. W. Bishop from the 25th district which embraces Rosiclare. Mayor Otis Lamar of Rosiclare was chairman of the meeting.

The primary object of this Community Development program is to try to rehabilitate the economy of Rosiclare which has suffered badly by continuing unemployment because of the decline of the flour-milling business upon which Rosiclare has been dependent for over 50 years. An organized, well thought out attempt will be made to develop Rosiclare into a manufacturing center of some kind. The citizens of Rosiclare are solidly behind this project.

British Nations To Withdraw Forces in Korea

LONDON (AP)—The British Commonwealth nations announced today they are withdrawing two-thirds of their forces from Korea, following the example set by the United States.

The announcement was made shortly after South Korean Ambassador Myo Mook Lee called at the British Foreign Office.

Gen. Sir John Harding, chief of the Imperial General Staff, had hinted at the British withdrawal earlier when it was announced four of the six U. S. divisions now in Korea would be shifted to bases elsewhere.

The War Office said the plan to trim Commonwealth strength in Korea from about 24,000 men to about 8,000 was approved by the United States.

The British withdrawal is to be accomplished progressively over the next six months.

Tells of Plan By Terrorists to Kill Eisenhower

NEW YORK (AP)—A confessed former conspirator takes the witness stand in federal court again today to describe in detail a Puerto Rican Nationalist plan to assassinate President Eisenhower.

Gonzales Lebron Sotomayor, a prosecution witness at the seditious conspiracy trial of 13 fellow Nationalists, testified Monday that Mr. Eisenhower was slated to be killed last October with the same guns later used to shoot up the House of Representatives.

Lebron said the fact that the President was on a fishing trip in Colorado at the time of the scheduled assassination foiled the plan.

Lebron, who pleaded guilty to the seditious conspiracy charge and turned state's evidence, said Julio Pinto Gandia, Nationalist leader here and one of the 13 defendants, issued orders to party members in New York and Chicago to keep tabs on movements of the President and several congressmen.

It was under these orders, he said, that a small band of Puerto Ricans shot up Congress last March 1, wounding five representatives.

Lebron's sister, Lolita Lebron, is one of the defendants at the trial. She was one of the Nationalists who carried out the shooting in Congress.

Lebron's testimony, taken through a Spanish interpreter, did not make clear whether Nationalist leaders ordered the attempt on the life of then President Truman in November, 1950, when two Puerto Ricans tried to shoot their way into Blair House, where the President was living at the time.

Plan District PTA Conference at Galatia October 21

Mrs. Wendell Bramlet, director of district 30, returned recently from Monticello, Ill., where she attended a state board meeting of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers held at Robert Allerton park.

Plans were completed for a district fall conference to be held Oct. 21 at Galatia. Speakers will be Otis Keeler, public relations director in the department of extension, and Mrs. Lee Vernon, chairman of the Parent Teacher magazine.

Tentative plans were made for a special conference on Oct. 27 at Giant City park which includes four districts: 16, with Mrs. E. J. Curry, Mt. Vernon, director; 17, Mrs. George B. Carty, Marion; 18, Mrs. R. A. Garwood, Jonesboro, and 30 with Mrs. Bramlet. Mrs. Harold S. Williams, field representative of the Illinois Congress of Parent and Teacher, Normal, will also be present.

Plans are being completed, Mrs. Bramlet said, for radio and television programs to precede the district conference.

She also stated that Mrs. Williams will be here the third week in November for two days of special conference with district 30.

Nine States Hold Primaries Today

By United Press
Voters selected nominees in nine state primaries today, virtually completing the line-up of opponents for the Nov. 2 elections in which Democrats and Republicans will fight it out for control of Congress.

States holding primaries were Colorado, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New York, Utah, Vermont, Washington and Wisconsin.

Five Senate seats will be open among the nine states in November, two in New Hampshire and one each in Colorado, Massachusetts and Minnesota.

Of 91 House seats held by the nine states, 61 are now occupied by Republicans and 30 by Democrats.

Today's nominations will virtually complete the ballots for the fall elections. New York party conventions later this month will select gubernatorial candidates while Rhode Island, in a primary, will choose nominees for governor, senator and two congressmen.

Put Scientific Knowledge to Peace Uses: Eisenhower

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—President Eisenhower today dedicated the new radio research laboratory of the National Bureau of Standards here today with a plea that nations put their increasing scientific knowledge to benign rather than war-like efforts.

He appeared genuinely moved by what he saw inside the huge $3,375,000 laboratory where federal scientists will study means of putting a greater number of high radio frequencies into use by industry, science, communications and the armed services.

"Every discovery of science can be used two ways," he said. "One good, one bad. It is not the fault of science if it is used evilly."

Many Oregon Forest Lookouts Are Women

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—Eighty per cent of the lookouts in state forests of Oregon are staffed by women, state forestry department reports show.

They range from Joyce Pearce, 17, a lookout in northwestern Oregon, to Mrs. Alice Hamilton, 70, a lookout in the southeastern part of the state.

Mrs. Hamilton has been looking over southern Oregon forests from mountain-top towers since 1942.

New Sausage Needs Only to Be Brownd

CHICAGO (AP)—Add another food to the ever-growing list of those which need only to be browned and served.

Sausages which need only three minutes of browning and heating are available nationally for the first time. The maker (Swift and Co.) says that in contrast with the regular link sausage which shrinks up to 50 per cent during home cooking, practically no drippings are left from the new sausages.

Quemoy Defense 'Deters' Drive By Red Chinese

WASHINGTON (AP)—American officials said today that Nationalist China's hard-hitting defense of battered Quemoy seems to have "deterred" Red China from any immediate attempt to take the outpost.

They doubted, however, that the Reds have abandoned hope of eventually seizing the tiny island a few miles off the Chinese mainland.

State and Defense Department officials, meanwhile, parried all questions on what the United States would be willing to do to help the Nationalist forces hold Quemoy. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles made it clear the United States wants to keep the Chinese Reds guessing.

Officials pointed to declining Communist activity opposite Quemoy as a sign that the Reds have been at least temporarily discouraged from launching an invasion.

These experts said the Red fleet of junks which had been massed in the area has taken a heavy pounding from the Nationalist forces, thus making it more difficult for the Communists to try a water crossing.

Capital Divided

From the beginning, these authorities said, the Communists may only have wanted to test Quemoy's defenses. If so, they have found the island well defended and able to take care of itself, they said.

On the question of direct U. S. intervention to repel a Red invasion of the island, the Capital was still widely divided. Informed sources said the Defense Department itself remained split on the issue.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) urged use of U. S. air and naval forces to defend Quemoy and all other Nationalist-held islands just off the China mainland. But he said American ground forces should not be thrown into any such battle.

Some officials looked to the Smith statement to help discourage Red thoughts of invasion.

Walter R. Nolen, PN 3, left last night for Great Lakes Naval Training Center where he will be stationed with the faculty in the future, after spending a three day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Nolen, and relatives and friends. He has been stationed in Sasabo, Japan, for the past year.

Was Tancred picked up his car, petbag, which still stood beside the late publisher's desk, and carried it to the cot at the rear of the shop. He set it down and opened it up and then he heard the door open. He whirled, then relaxed.

A group of men were coming into the shop. Gil Packard was in the lead. Tancred recognized the others as Judge Kraft, Prosecutor Glassman and two men who had been elected to the city council along with the others.

"Mr. Tancred," said Gil Packard, as the spokesman for the group, "we're here because we've all just read this week's Star."

Tancred regarded Packard narrowly. "Yes."

"We represent the duly elected officials of Sage City and the County of Sage. We were legally elected and although we haven't as yet performed any duties, we intend to do so. . . . He paused to moisten his lips. "That is, on one condition."

Tancred waited. Packard shot a quick look around his little group, saw that no one had weakened, and drew a deep breath. "On condition that you accept the job of town marshal."

Tancred stared at them. "You know that I am Wes Tancred?"

"We know it."

The door opened again and Lee Kinnaid came in. Tancred said, "Lee, they want me to be marshal."

"Have they promised you any special kind of funeral?" Kinnaid held aloft a copy of the Star. "If necessary, we'll form a vigilante committee," Packard said, angrily.

"Then you don't need a marshal," Tancred said quickly.

Herb Glassman stepped forward. He threw up his hand. "Wait a minute, Tancred. There'll be no vigilante committee. I'll go along with the rest on most anything—as long as it's legal. But just because Jacob Fugger's broken even in the book doesn't mean that we should."

Judge Kraft cleared his throat. "Glassman's right, we've got to uphold the law."

Kinnaid touched the bandage on his head. "Last week I arrested a man named Smith. I did it quite legal-like and he was taken away from me in a very illegal-like manner." He pointed to Glassman. "Did you issue any warrants, Prosecutor?" He whirled Judge Kraft. "Did you sentence anyone last week, Judge?" He turned back to Tancred. "Don't do it, Wes. . . . They'll let you go out and face Eric Stratemeyer and Dave Helm and they'll be behind you . . . a long ways behind. So far behind that the bullets can't hit them."

Packard asked savagely. "Have you gone over to Fugger's side, Kinnaid?"

Kinnaid grinned crookedly and walked out of the shop. When the door was closed the councilmen looked uneasily at one another. Tancred drew a deep breath.

"I've thrown it in Fugger's teeth. I've got to back it up . . . I'll take the job."

The councilmen shouted and began to converge on Tancred. He held up his hand. "I'll take the badge, but I'm warning you—I won't give it back until it's all over. I mean that, no matter how quickly you change your minds, I'll see it through."

"I won't quit!" shouted Gil Packard. "I promise you that."

Tancred walked back to the cot and reaching in, took out a heavy bundle. He unrolled it, exposing his revolver. "This gun," he told his visitors, "is the gun that killed Sam Older. I'm telling you that now because it's going to be thrown into your faces . . . that I'm the man who killed Sam Older. Yes, I killed him. I'll tell you this, too. I received no reward for killing Older. I killed him to keep him from killing me. There are no charges against me—anywhere. That's as much as I'm going to say about myself—and Sam Older."

He spun the cylinder of the revolver, saw that it was working smoothly and thrust the gun under the waistband of his trousers. Nodding to the councilmen he went past them and left the shop.

On South Street, Tancred crossed to the jail. As he neared the door it was opened and Chuck Gorey stepped out.

"Well, if it ain't Mr. Tancred," Gorey said, thinly.

"Give me your badge, Gorey," Tancred said. "You're through as marshal of Sage City."

"What?" gasped Gorey. Then his face turned a sudden crimson. "What're you trying to pull?"

"The city council's appointed me marshal," Tancred said in a deadly calm voice.

"What city council? I mean—they got no right."

Tancred held out his hand. "Give me your badge."

Gorey's eyes dropped to the revolver, the first time he had ever seen Tancred with a gun. A sudden whine came into his voice. "You're trying to make me draw on you . . ."

"For the last time, give me that badge!"

A palsy shook Gorey and he had trouble unpinning the badge. Tancred took it and pinned it on his shirt. "Put your keys on the desk inside," he said evenly. "Then get out—and don't cross me, because if you do, I'll kill you."

He turned and walked away.

Gorey stared at Tancred's back and the temptation to draw his gun and shoot Tancred must have been deep. But something kept him from doing it; fear that Tancred, in spite of a bullet in his back, might still kill him.

Czech Border Guards Fire on American Soldiers

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—Czechoslovak Communist border guards fired on American soldiers patrolling the Iron Curtain frontier near Baernau Monday, the U. S. Army headquarters here said today.

The Army announcement said the Czechs fired about 35 shots. None of the American patrol was injured, and there was no property damage.

Army officials said the U. S. troops did not return the Communist fire.

The incident was the second of similar type in four days.

On Sept. 9 an Army patrol from the 1st U. S. Reconnaissance Co. was fired upon by Communist frontier guards near Lichtenberg, which fronts on Red East Germany, 50 miles northwest of Baernau.

Monday's incident involved men from the 2nd U. S. Armored Cavalry Regiment's 1st Battalion.

Baernau lies 35 miles east of the musical festival city of Bayreuth and 15 miles northeast of Weiden.

It was near Baernau that seven American soldiers stumbled into Czechoslovakia on July 4. They were held by the Communists for 12 days before being released.

Murphysboro, With 13 Lettermen Back, Favored Over Bull Dogs In Grid Opener Friday Night

The Murphysboro Red Devils, first grid foe of the Bull Dogs of Harrisburg this season, are rough again and Merle Jones already has picked the score to be Murphysboro 21, Harrisburg 0.

Jones is the sports editor of the Southern Illinoisan, published at Carbondale, and he has been making picks for years.

The Bull Dogs, when they journey to Murphysboro Friday evening for the contest, will face the perennial favorite of the Southwest Egyptian conference which has 13 lettermen back. Last year at Taylor Field Murphysboro beat the locals 12 to 7.

Red Devil Coach E. L. (Doc) Bencini is optimistic about his charges, declaring he has a "very active bunch, with a lot of possibilities."

3 Regular Backs Return
Of the lettermen, eight are backfield candidates and five are line-men.

"Back this year," says the Southern Illinoisan, "are three of the four regular backs of last year, headed by Captain Bert Osburn, who is expected to carry a considerable load of the ball-toting chore this fall. Ozment, a 5-10, 165-pound senior, already has earned three major letters, leading Red Devil clubs as a slick ball-handling quarterback in his freshman and sophomore years."

"Also over from last year's backfield," the article continues, "are Gary Roberts and Jack Nelson. Roberts, who won plaudits of rival coaches last year for his line-backing ability, also is a good blocking halfback and also has his share of running plays."

"Nelson is expected to run from the fullback slot and will be the heaviest man in the backfield at about 170."

Good Defensive Line
There are a number of candidates for the other backfield spot with nobody having it pinned down at present.

"From the defensive standpoint," the article declares, "the line shapes up pretty well. End positions are probably in better shape than any part of the line with five good candidates on hand headed by 6-4 letterman Bob Castleton. . . . Tackle candidates include two returning lettermen, Bob Brantley and Dean Berger, and a list of promising candidates."

Guard candidates include Jim Weatherly, backed up by Norman Greer, Dale Stamp, Jim Brannon, Wayne Larson and Randall Hudson. . . . Larry Lavender, a letterman, is the leading center candidate."

"Bencini is expecting a much speedier backfield this season and also expects to be able to throw a more varied attack at his opponents since he has a group of experienced backs who can absorb and execute several styles of play."

Eldorado Plays Anna-Jonesboro
The Red Devils will run from the same basic formation as was used last year, with variations to be added as the season goes along.

"The Devils have a slight practice edge over most of their prospective opponents, since high school classes in Murphysboro did not start until Sept. 13 due to a remodeling program under way and the squad worked on a two-day practice schedule from Aug. 30 until school opened."

Other Friday night openers in southern Illinois:

Eldorado at Anna-Jonesboro. Marion at Cartersville.

Christopher at Du Quoin. Herrin at Zeigler.

Carbondale at West Frankfort. Cairo at Charleston (Mo.). Lawrenceville at Salem.

Chester at Belleville. Metropolis at Sesser.

See Three-Way Battle in Big Ten Race

CHICAGO (AP)—Michigan State and Illinois, defending co-champions of the Big Ten, and third-place Wisconsin figured today for a three-way battle for the 1954 Western Conference title and for the Illini or Badgers, another chance at the Rose Bowl.

The Spartans, under a new coach, Duffy Daugherty, will try to make speed and manpower stand up for lack of weight in a drive to retain a share of the conference crown.

And Daugherty wasn't too perturbed about his chances.

"I think we'll have a pretty fair football team," he said. "And I wouldn't trade Le Roy Bolden for any back in the country."

"But games are going to be won or lost up front, and I'd say our linemen, while not too big, are quick and they're agile."

Now up for the Spartans will reach 200 pounds when the season begins, but Daugherty will have a scat backfield headed by Bolden, direction at top speed and usually far faster than the defense can equal.

The Spartans get one break in that they do not play Illinois, but they might determine their title chances on the second Saturday of the season when Wisconsin appears at East Lansing.

Illini Backs East
Ivy Williamson has two terrific backs and one of them, Alan Aniche, was a standout pre-season bet for all-American honors.

The Horse, now a senior after three years of varsity play, reported at a low 200 pounds, but the Badger coaches figured to fatten him up for another try to exceed his own conference rushing record.

Along with him Williamson has quarterback Jim Miller, the Big Ten's best passer last season, a sophomore, and some hard hitting experienced linemen. Williamson's problem will be to develop some halfback strength.

Coach Ray Eliot rates his Illinois team as 30 per cent weaker than it was last year, but he still has all-American halfback J. C. Caroline and will boast a high speed backfield with sophomore Abe Woodson at the other half and Mickey Bates at fullback. But he figured he needed help in the line and depth for every position.

The St. Louis Cardinals are calling up nine of their farm hands, including John Romonosky from the Columbus American Association club. However all nine of the players are with clubs engaged in postseason playoffs and will not report to the Cards until later in the season.

Coming with Romonosky from the Columbus team are Stu Miller (6-7), Bill Greason (9-13) and John's pitching record is three wins and two losses. Recent batting averages also showed the Harrisburg player hitting .400, with 10 hits in 25 attempts.

Over at Pinckneyville, where the Panthers open their football season this Friday at Johnston City, there are expectations for a good season. Coach Glenn Hamilton, starting his fourth year as Pinckneyville grid mentor, has six of last year's regulars, plus two other veterans who played considerable varsity ball in 1954. Last year the Panthers won five of nine starts. They have a nine-game schedule again this season.

Braves to Open Last-Ditch Battle with Giants; Antonelli Blanks Cards, 1-0

By EARL WRIGHT

United Press Sports Writer
The Milwaukee Braves, who whipped Philadelphia's Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons in their last two starts, open a last-ditch bid for the National League flag tonight against the front-running New York Giants and Sal Maglie at the Polo Grounds.

The Braves, who have shown more bounce than the lively ball this year, warmed up for the three-game series by defeating Simmons Monday night, 7-4. The victory left Milwaukee 4 1/2 games behind the Giants and one behind the runner-up Brooklyn Dodgers.

Johnny Antonelli, the left-hander the Giants obtained from the Braves, steadied the weary New York pitching staff for the Milwaukee invasion by posting a five-hit, 1-0 afternoon victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. The Giants gained a half-game on the idle Dodgers.

Bucs Edge Reds, 6-5
In the only other major league game Monday, the Pittsburgh Pirates scored a 6-5 night victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs. A crowd of 1,148—the smallest night attendance in Forbes Field history—saw left-hander Dick Littlefield win his own game when he singled to score Jerry Lynch with the decisive run in the eighth inning.

Manager Charles Grimm, still trying to get a pennant for Milwaukee fans who set a National League attendance for the second straight year in 1954, promised the Giants a good tussle.

"Certainly we can catch them," Grimm said. "I'm going to throw my best at them. If they lick us, they've licked our best."

Charley's "best" means Gene Conley (14-8) will duel Maglie (13-6) tonight. Wednesday afternoon Grimm plans to start his left-handed ace, Warren Spahn (19-11) and Manager Leo Durocher is expected to go with Ruben Gomez (15-9).

Antonelli's victory over the Cardinals was his sixth shutout and 21st 1954 victory against five defeats.

Mays, Rhodes Produce Tally
Mays and Dudy Rhodes gave Antonelli the only run he needed in the first inning. Willie's high fly dropped close to the right field foul line for a double and Rhodes scored him with a single.

Milwaukee led 3-2 when Del Crandall started a four-run spurge at Philadelphia with a double, his third hit of the game. Andy Pafko sacrificed Crandall to third and was safe at first when Simmons made a late throw to third trying to get Crandall. Johnny Logan walked to fill the bases. A hit batsman and another walk forced in two runs and brought Steve Riddick to Simmons' relief. Bill Bruton then singled home Milwaukee's final two runs. Dave Jolly, who relieved starter Jim Wilson in the fourth, served a two-run homer to Smokey Burgess in the ninth as he boosted his record to 9-6.

Wife of Executive Who Disappeared In 1948 to Remarry

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Orja Corns Jr., wife of a Chicago executive who disappeared in 1948, planned today to remarry.

Mrs. Corns, who has been living in Wytheville, Va., said Monday she has obtained a divorce and will marry Sterling Chambers, Chicago, on Oct. 16.

Police have investigated hundreds of clues since Corns, a $15,000-a-year sales executive, vanished in 1948 without a trace after returning from a Wisconsin business trip.

However, not a trace of the businessman, who was 34 when he disappeared, has turned up.

Shortly after Corns vanished, his wife and their daughter, Betty, 14, moved to Virginia where they have lived with Mrs. Corns' parents.

If Corns is not found within a year he will be declared legally dead and $87,000 in insurance policies, most of them naming Mrs. Corns as beneficiary, will become due.

Jazz Band to Play At Funeral to Fulfill Final Wishes

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—A three-piece jazz band will blare out with "Don't Worry 'Bout Me" in a staid Salt Lake City funeral home today to fulfill the final wishes of a man who didn't like any other kind of music.

Mrs. Dorothy Moore Jay arranged the unusual funeral for her husband, Lodel Vandavere Jay, 44.

He didn't like any other kind of music, especially organ music," she said, "but he was crazy for jazz, so that's what we'll have at the funeral."

Jay was killed in an automobile accident near Rangely, Colo., last Friday.

There will be no eulogy. Plans had been made for a brief non-denominational talk by a minister but were cancelled because of publicity given the funeral.

A few minutes spent in overhauling faulty plugs and worn ignition points on your tractor will solve most hard starting, rough operation, missing and loss of power troubles.

Pickets Halt Work At A-Plant in Ohio

WAVERLY, Ohio (AP)—Pickets appeared today at all gates of the $1,200,000,000 Atomic Energy Commission plant near here, bringing construction to a total standstill. One of the striking workers said the pickets represented the Pike County Atomic Trades Council. The Ohio highway patrol was on duty, though no trouble was reported in the jurisdictional dispute.

Striking pipefitters, electricians, iron workers, carpenters and millwrights walked out to protest that the Goodyear Atomic Corp., eventual operators of the plant, was taking over some buildings before they were completed, thus reducing construction work.
